The Nonprofit Unemployment Fund joins the Spokes team to help local nonprofits save money.

San Luis Obispo, CA – Spokes, the nonprofit resource center for the Central Coast, is excited to announce that The Nonprofit Unemployment Fund (The NU Fund) has become its newest business partner and donor with a gift of $3,000.

Spokes empowers nonprofits and connects them to resources and each other while bolstering the collective voice, leadership and capacity of our local nonprofit community. Similarly, The NU Fund helps 100s of nonprofits save money on their unemployment expenses so that they will have more resources to invest in their missions.

“This is the time of year when organizations are paying the majority of their unemployment costs,” said Lesley Santos Dierks, CEO of Spokes. “It’s exciting to help our member nonprofits, like the San Luis Obispo YMCA, Transitions – Mental Health Association and The Good Samaritan Shelter, benefit from the employment compliance and expense saving solutions that The NU Fund offers.”

“We truly enjoy helping local nonprofits save money, and look forward to spreading the word throughout the Central Coast about The NU Fund,” said Woody Clark, Founder of The NU Fund. “Please feel free to contact us at 805-772-9800 to see if The NU Fund can help your 501(c)3 too.”

###

Spokes is a nonprofit management support organization that provides training, consulting and resources to empower nonprofits to fulfill their missions. Spokes was founded as the Nonprofit Support Center in 1996 and, in 2011, relocated to San Luis Obispo and re-branded to become Spokes.
